

Visual Resources Curator & Instructor in Art Appreciation, University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, Stevens Point, WI

Visual Resources Curator and Instructor in Art Appreciation
The University of Wisconsin—Stevens Point
Academic Staff—Renewable Appointment

The University of Wisconsin—Stevens Point Department of Art and Design is searching for a full-time Image Collection Curator and Instructor in Art Appreciation. Salary is competitive, commensurate with experience. Starting date August 26, 2008. Responsibilities include overseeing and expanding the Art Department's collection of slides, digital images and other teaching image resources, and teaching two sections of 100-level Art Appreciation for non-Art Majors. The successful candidate will oversee the activities of student employees (give work assignments, maintain consistent filing standards, schedule working hours for payroll, etc.), creating, cataloguing and filing slides and digital images. Activities will include establishing and organizing a digital image database, organize access and distribution of digital images, etc. The successful candidate will also teach two sections of 100-level Art Appreciation (world art history) for non-Art Majors. Effective participation in Art Department governance, faculty meetings, etc. is also required.

The University of Wisconsin—Stevens Point is a fully accredited 4-year liberal arts campus in the University of Wisconsin system. Stevens Point is a city of 25,000, in a greater metropolitan area of ca. 40,000, in a scenic rural setting in central Wisconsin, half an hour south of Wausau and an hour and a half north of Madison. The Department of Art and Design is a NASAD-accredited studio art program, regionally recognized for its vitality and quality. The program offers B.A and B.F.A. degrees in 2-D and 3-D and a B.F.A. degree in Graphic Design, as well as a minor in Art History. There are approximately 300 art majors and 16 full time faculty. The Art Department has excellent new facilities in the Noel Fine Arts Center, shared with three other departments in the College of Fine Arts and Communication.
