

Technical Services/Systems Librarian, The Bard Graduate Center Library, New York, NY

The Bard Graduate Center Library is looking for a forward-thinking, technologically savvy Technical Services/Systems Librarian with sound cataloging experience. Duties include managing all aspects of technical services workflow and quality control, including database management, planning for future initiatives and proposing technological solutions.

For a complete position description and application instructions, please see

<http://www.bgc.bard.edu/about/employment-opportunities.html#two>

The Bard Graduate Center offers MA and PhD programs in the history of the decorative and applied arts; cultural and design history; museum history and practice.

The library collection comprises approximately 50,000 volumes of monographs, rare books, auction catalogs and bound periodicals. The library subscribes to nearly 300 serials. The staff is made up of 3 professionals, 2 library assistants, and student employees. This position reports to the Chief Librarian.